3D Systems Expands Its China Presence With Tianjin Real Estate Development Company

-Leading Technology Services Firm To Carry Full Line Of 3D Printers

ROCK HILL, South Carolina –July 29, 2013 – 3D Systems (NYSE:DDD) announced today that Tianjin Real Estate Development Management Co., Ltd. in Northern China has begun selling its complete portfolio of personal and professional 3D printers.

The Tianjin organization has over 20 years of experience with an outstanding track record in bringing best-in-class solutions and services to the real estate, architectural, government and technology sectors. “By combining our experience and customer relationships with the most comprehensive 3D printing portfolio on the market, we are able to provide the total solution to our customers,” said Heting Ma, President of Tianjin Real Estate Development Management Co., Ltd.

Concurrently, Tianjin is also offering the [Cube[®]](#), the first consumer 3D printer that is certified for home use and safe for children as young as eight years old. Truly plug-and-play, the printer works right out of the box with an easy load cartridge and touch screen user interface. Tianjin has opened a retail space to engage local consumers and democratize access to affordable 3D printing locally.

“We are excited that Tianjin is introducing our award winning printers in their new retail store and offering our full line of professional [ProJet[®] 3D printers in this important region](#),” said Michele Marchesan, Vice President and General Manager of Personal and Professional 3D Printers, 3D Systems. “Tianjin is the ideal partner to deliver our market-leading 3D content to print offerings, extending our reach and democratizing access for professionals and consumers alike.”
